History

Professors Hesseltine, Hicks, chairman, High, Knapplund, Netles, Reynolds, Sellery; Associate Professors Easum, Post; Assistant Professor Edson; Instructor Sachse.

When history is offered as one of the required studies in the general course leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts (see page 62), the requirement must be satisfied by a continuous three-credit course extending through two semesters.

The courses in history are divided into three groups: (a) Courses numbered under 100 carry only undergraduate credit. The introductory courses 1, 2, 3, 5, and 10 (see details below) are the courses open to freshmen. (b) Courses numbered in the 100-series continue in the direction of greater specialization the work begun in the introductory courses; they may be elected by students who have the necessary preparation. (c) Courses numbered above 200 are open only to graduate students.
Major Fields of Concentration:

(a) European History.
(b) American History.
(c) History of Culture.
(d) Hispanic Studies (See page 51).

Students with a major in Social Sciences electing to work in history will elect one of these fields of concentration, and offer not less than 32 more than 40 credits in history, including History 2 or 3a, 138 or 139, one other introductory course (History 1, 3a, 5, or 10), History 4 (6 credits), and at least 16 credits in advanced history courses taken in residence at the University of Wisconsin, of which 10 must be devoted to European history or American history, except as specified below for Field of Concentration (c).

Field of Concentration (c) requires either (1) History 1 or 5 (4 or 6 credits), History 2 (4 or 6 credits), and History 2 or 3 (4 or 6 credits); or (II) History 3 (10 credits) and History 10 (4 credits) or History 4 (6 credits); and advanced history courses up to the minimum of 32 credits. It also requires an attainment examination in Latin and in one modern language, and contemplates a supervised selection of courses in non-historical subjects within the field of concentration. It is preferable for majors in this field to select their major in their sophomore year.

Of the 16 credits in advanced courses, 2 credits in each semester of the senior year may, in the judgment of the adviser, be assigned to the preparation of a thesis (History 100-A) or a thesis course (History 100-B) in the field of concentration. In addition to the courses in history, the major in Fields of Concentration (a) and (b) requires Economics 1a and Political Science 1 or 7; and Sociology 110 (Pre-History) and Geography 1-2 are strongly recommended.

A major in Social Sciences who elects (a), (b), or (c) as his field of concentration may be admitted to advanced independent work at the beginning of his junior year provided that (1) he has a 2.5 grade-point average for his first two years; (2) he has completed the required freshman and sophomore work in history; and (3) he is recommended for independent work by three of his sophomore instructors of whom one must be a member of the Department of History.

Teaching Major and Minor. See Bulletin of the School of Education.

1. Introductory Courses
Open to Freshmen

Students may take only one of the courses 1, 2, 5, or 10 for three credits a semester, since each contains introductory training in which credit will not be given twice; that is, if they have had or are taking one of these courses for three credits at the University of Wisconsin (which includes the Extension Division and the Milwaukee Extension Center), another, elected at the same time or thereafter, may be taken from this group for two credits a semester only, omitting the supplementary reading and a topical report, but if only one of these courses is taken, it must be for three credits per semester throughout the year. Advanced students who have fulfilled the option in history for the bachelor's degree or who are not registered in the College of Letters and Science may take any of these four introductory courses for two credits each semester. Students who take History 3 cannot elect History 1 or 2; they may take History 5 or 10, each for 2 credits a semester.

1. Medieval History. Yr; 3 or 2 cr. Course in Humanities in which students who elect this course must take it for 4 credits, but only such students may take it for 4 credits. Mr. Reynolds and staff.
