HISTORY

PROFESSORS CURTIS, EASUM, HESSLEITNER, HUGBY, KNAULUND, CHAIRMAN, PHILLIPS, PORT, REYNOLDS; ASSOCIATE PROFESSORS EDSON, HARDISON, JENSEN, SCHULZ; ASSISTANT PROFESSORS BOARDMAN, FAJERUK, WOLFF. RESEARCH ASSOCIATE CASTENHOLZ.

When history is offered as one of the required subjects in the general courses leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts (see page 67), the requirement must be satisfied by a continuous three-credit course covering through two semesters.

The courses in history are divided into three groups: (a) Courses numbered under 100 carry only undergraduate credit. The introductory courses 1, 5, and 10 (see details below) are the courses open to freshmen. (b) Courses numbered in the 100-series continue in the direction of greater specialization the work begun in the introductory courses; they may be elected by students who have the necessary preparation. (c) Courses numbered above 200 are open only to graduate students.

234. History of Culture. (d) Hispanic Studies (see pages 51 and 52.)

Students with a major in Social Sciences electing to work in history will elect one of these fields of concentration, and often not less than 32 credits in history, including History 2 cr., 10, 11, 19, or 31, one other introductory course (History 3: 3 or 4, History 12 or 13, 139 or 139, one other introductory course (History 3: 5 or 10), History 4 (6 credits), and at least 16 credits in advanced history courses taken in residence at the University of Wisconsin, of which at least 6 must be elected in European History or American History. In addition to the courses specified below for Field of Concentration (c), History 10 (6 credits), and History 2 (6 credits), History 4 (6 credits), and History 6 (6 credits); or (II) History 3 (6 or 8 credits) and History 10 (5 credits) or History 4 (6 credits), and advanced history courses up to the minimum of 22 credits. It also requires an attainment examination in Latin and in one modern language, and contemplates a supervised selection of courses in non-historical subjects within the field of concentration. It is preferable for majors in this field to select their major in their sophomore year.

Of the 16 credits in advanced courses, 3 credits in each semester of the senior year may, in the judgment of the adviser, be assigned to the preparation of a thesis (History 100-A) or a thesis course (History 100-B) in the field of concentration. In addition to the courses in history, the major in Fields of Concentration (a) and (b) requires Economics 1a; and Political Science 25; Sociology 110, and Geography 1-2 are strongly recommended. A major in Social Sciences who elects (a), (b), or (c) as his field of concentration may be admitted to advanced independent work at the beginning of his junior year provided that he has a 2.5 grade-point average for his first two years; (2) he has completed the required freshman and sophomore work in history; and (3) he is recommended for independent work by three of his sophomore instructors of whom one must be a member of the Department of History.

TEACHING MAJOR AND MINOR. See bulletin of the School of Education.
