Semester I--1985-86

COURSE NO. 111
COURSE TITLE Ancient Near East and Greece
INSTRUCTOR Mr. Clover

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course will consider the destinies of civilization in Western Eurasia from the eighth through the first millennium B.C. Special attention will be given to the following subjects:

(1) The birth of agriculture and cities in the Near East (ca. 8000-3000 B.C.); and the first urban civilizations during the Near Eastern and eastern Mediterranean Bronze Age (ca. 3000-1200 B.C.);

(2) civilization in the Near East during the early Iron Age (ca. 1200-500 B.C.);

(3) civilization in Greek World during the early Iron Age (ca. 1200-500 B.C.);

(4) the Classic Age of Greek Civilization (ca. 500-330 B.C.) and,

(5) the conquests of Alexander the Great and the juncture of Greek and Near Eastern Civilization after his death (ca. 330-100 B.C.).

LECTURES

Three lectures each week, supplemented by one weekly discussion meeting with a teaching assistant.

WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS AND EXAMINATIONS FOR STUDENTS WHO TAKE THE COURSE FOR REGULAR CREDIT

Students who take the course for THREE REGULAR CREDITS will write a six weeks examination, a twelve weeks examination OR a short twelve weeks paper (suggested maximum length: 8 to 10 pages), and a final examination. Students who take the course for FOUR REGULAR CREDITS have two options:

(1) they may write the three examinations listed above, and a short term paper (suggested maximum length: 8 to 10 pages); or

(2) they may write a six weeks and final examination, and a paper in two drafts. The first draft (suggested maximum length: 8 to 10 pages) is due during the twelfth week of the term. The instructor will hand back this draft with suggestions and criticisms, and the student will submit a revised draft (suggested maximum length: 10 to 15 pages) by the time of the final examination. The deadline for selecting term paper topics for regular credit is the Friday of the seventh week of the term.
SPECIAL PROJECT: A COLLOQUIUM ON THE POETRY OF HOMER

Students who wish to complete the course without following the usual cycle of examinations and papers may participate in a colloquium on the poetry of Homer. Participants will select a term paper topic -- preferably but not necessarily one which concerns Homer's Iliad and Odyssey and related topics -- by the third week of the term. They will hand in a first draft of the term paper by Friday of the ninth week of the term, and a second draft (revised in accordance with the instructor's comments and the student's own second thoughts) by the day of the final examination. During the semester participants in the colloquium will use a weekly discussion hour (in addition to the three lecture hours) to present one brief background report on an aspect of Homer's epics, and then to present a sketch of their term paper.

Participants in the colloquium may earn honors or regular credit for the course. The suggested maximum length of the term paper's second draft varies with the number of credits:

3 regular or honors credits -- 10 to 15 pages;
4 regular or honors credits -- 15 to 20 pages.

GRADING SYSTEM

3 regular credits: 6 weeks exam 30%, 12 weeks exam or paper 35%, final exam 35% of final grade.
4 regular credits: 6 weeks exam 20%, 12 weeks exam or first draft of paper 25%, second or single (final) draft of term paper 25%, final exam 30% of final grade.

colloquium: first draft of paper 30%, work on project 35%, second draft of paper 35% of final grade.

APPEALS: The course staff offers second readings of examinations and papers. This is a no-risk review: when second opinions are given, the staff records the higher of the two estimations as the examination or paper grade.

PROCEDURES FOR THE REMAINDER OF THE SEMESTER

1. Students taking the course for THREE REGULAR CREDITS will write a twelve weeks examination OR a short twelve weeks paper (suggested maximum length: 8 to 10 pages), and a final examination.

2. Students taking the course for FOUR REGULAR CREDITS have two options:
   a. They may write a twelve weeks examination, a final examination, and a final paper (maximum length: 8 to 10 pages) which is due on the day of the final examination.
   b. They may write a final examination, and a final paper in two drafts. The first draft (maximum length: 8 to 10 pages) is due on the day of the twelve weeks examination. The instructor will hand back this draft with suggestions and criticisms, and the student will submit a revised draft (maximum length: 10 to 15 pages) by the day of the final examination.

N.B. FOR STUDENTS TAKING THE COURSE FOR REGULAR CREDIT, THE DEADLINE FOR SELECTING TERM PAPER TOPICS IS FRIDAY, OCTOBER 18th. THE TWELVE WEEKS EXAMINATION AND PAPER DEADLINE DATE WILL BE ANNOUNCED TWO WEEKS BEFORE THE EXAMINATION.

3. Students participating in the Colloquium on the Poetry of Homer will hand in the first draft of their final term paper by Tuesday, November 5th. The instructor will hand back this draft with suggestions and criticisms, and the participants will then submit a revised draft by the day of the final examination. The suggested maximum length of the revised draft varies with the number of credits: 3 honors or regular credits -- 10-15 pages; 4 honors or regular credits -- 15-20 pages.
