Course Description:

Welcome to EPS/History 412, The History of American Education. This class concentrates on the history of mass education, focusing especially on the history of public education below the college and university levels. We will examine educational developments and trends from the 17th century colonies to the recent past, from the Puritans to contemporary efforts to improve the nation’s public schools.
Throughout the course, we’ll explore the tension between educational ideals and practices, and how various groups of citizens tried to shape and reform education in the past. We’ll also study the influence of religion, economics, gender, race, and ethnicity upon education and schooling in different periods of American history.

There are several required paperbacks for the course, available at the University Bookstore. Copies may also be available at local used book stores or via the Internet. Copies are also on reserve at College Library, Helen C. White.

1. Thomas Hine, The Rise and Fall of the American Teenager
2. Margaret Nash, Women’s Education in the United States
3. Carl F. Kaestle, Pillars of the Republic
4. David Adams, Education for Extinction
5. Edward Larson, Summer for the Gods

Student Responsibilities:

Class attendance is expected. Students are also expected to complete and reflect upon the assigned readings, which together with material from lectures will help shape the quality of classroom discussions. 20% of the final course grade will be based upon the quality of your contributions to your discussion section. The participation grade will also be determined by your achievement on one page, double-spaced papers that will be due at your discussion section approximately every other week. The assignments will be distributed one week before the papers are due. These one-page papers must be submitted in hard copy only, and late papers will not be accepted. Unexcused absences from discussion class will seriously weaken your participation grade.

There will be two in-class examinations: a Mid-Term and a Final. These examinations will each be worth 40% of your final evaluation; they will be half essay question, half short answer and identification items. The Mid-term will cover lectures, reading assignments, and class discussions during the first half of the semester; the Final exam will not be comprehensive but will cover the material for the second half. Detailed information on these exams will be provided prior to the exams.

The Mid-term will be on two days—March 9 & 11 (Monday and Wednesday). The Final is on May 15, 2:45-4:45. Check your schedule when you enroll in the course to ensure that you do not have a conflict.

Graduate students will complete a 5-7 page paper, due on May 4, noon—please ask for a copy of the instructions for this paper at the beginning of the course.

To recap:
- 20% Discussion section & class participation including papers
- 40% Mid-term Exam
- 40% Final Exam

Grading Scale:
A (93-100); AB (88-92); B (83-87); BC (78-82); C (70-77); D (60-69); F, below 60

If you are ill or otherwise have a legitimate reason to miss a scheduled examination, it is your responsibility to contact me or one of the teaching assistants before the test. Missing an exam without prior permission will lead to an automatic F. If you are experiencing any difficulty with the course, or with your schooling generally, please come to see me or the other instructors. We would be very happy to help.
