History 127

THE WORLD IN THE TWENTIETH CENTURY

Mr. Koehl

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is designed for the beginner and non-specialist in history. It is open to history majors too, and is recommended for students in secondary education majoring in history and social studies. Regular attendance at lectures is essential as a means of linking together the very diverse readings. All students will be assigned to discussion sections, and attendance is required. A section grade of 10% for attendance and participation is involved. Students registered for four credits must register for the Writing Lab in addition to section. All students wishing honors credit must be registered for the fourth credit.

REQUIRED READINGS

Starred books should be purchased by everyone. Three-credit students may wish to purchase one of the non starred books which they will review as part of the course requirement. Non-starred books will be on reserve at Helen C. White (3-hour reserve).

Lecture notes, identified as Lesson Numbers (#) are required material (Purchased at KINKO'S; also on reserve).

Bauer, Yehuda, A History of the Holocaust.

- * Goff, Moss, Terry, and Upshur, The Twentieth Century. A Brief Global History (2nd Ed.)

Goldman, Eric, The Crucial Decade and After, America, 1945-1960.

- * Kochl, Robert, Chapters from A Brief History of the World War Two (purchase at KINKO'S; also on reserve).

- * Koehl, Robert, TC 110-5 Notes (purchase at KINKO'S; also on reserve)

Herring, George C., America's Longest War. The U.S. and Vietnam, 1950-1975.

Laqueur, Walter, Z., Europe Since Hitler. The Rebirth of Europe (revised ed., 1982).

Lerner, Warren, A History of Socialism and Communism.

Sontag, Raymond, A Broken World, 1919-1939.

Wright, Gordon, The Ordeal of Total War, 1939-1945.

Fourth credit students should also purchase:

Benjamin, Jules R., A Student's Guide to History, 3rd edition.

WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS AND EXAMINATIONS

There will be two hour examinations and a final examination. Each examination will include a map exercise; the hour examinations will have a choice of one essay among several, the final a choice of two essays among four or more alternatives. Students enrolled for three credits will write a 1500 word book review of one of the books used in the course, relating it to the lectures and other course readings. Students enrolled for four credits are expected to write a 3000 word project (research or creative) in connection with the Writing Lab, in which exercises and drafts are graded. Attendance is required and forms part of the grade for the fourth credit.

GRADING SYSTEM

Three Credits:	Four Credits:
