

History 572 -004
Fall 1982

Senn

Politics and Sports in Twentieth Century Europe

An examination of the role of sports in the politics and international relations of Europe since 1896. Using the history of the Olympics as a chronological structure, discussions will consider the role of governments in their sports establishments and the changing concepts of amateurism, as well as the calculated changing of rule. Will pay special attention to the Olympics of 1936 and 1980.

Tuesdays, 11-12.40

History 572
Mr. Senn

Fall, 1980

1

September 2 -- Introduction

9 -- Lenin: What is to be Done?

16 -- Lenin: Imperialism

23 -- Lenin: State and Revolution

30 -- Lenin: Left Wing Communism

October 7
14
21
28
November 4
11
18
25

Student Reports

December 2 -- Lenin: [The Fate of the Revolution]

9 -- Summing up

All readings are to be found in Robert C. Tucker, ed., The Lenin Anthology.