HISTORY

Professors Cronon (Chairman), Boardman, Bogue, Borrowman, Cameron, Current, Curti, Curtin, De Novo, Easum (Emeritus), Edson, Glad, Goldberg, Hamerow, Harrington, Harrison, Herlihy, Hill, Jensen, Kingdon, Koehl, Lampard, Lovejoy, Mosse, Petrovich, Phelan, Sachse, Taylor, Vansina, Williams, Willie; Associate Professors Coffman, Hollingsworth, Kutler, Nesbit, Risjord, Rotberg, Rothstein, Sella, Senn, Smail; Assistant Professors Barker, Clover, Fishman, Frykenberg, Gordon, Katz, Krosby, O'Connor, Schaar, Sewell, Skidmore, Veysey; Lecturer Jacobsen.

The story and interpretation of man's experiences and achievements is the subject of historical study. An understanding of history is indispensable to the education of civilized man. It comprehends the development of states and of economic, social, religious, and literary institutions. The study of history aids in giving perspective to related subjects, notably the humanities (languages and literatures, philosophy, music, and art) and the social studies (law, sociology and anthropology, economics, cultural and historical geography, history of science, political science, international relations, and psychology).

The Department of History offers courses for either a general knowledge of the history of civilization or a special knowledge of the history of particular topics and limited periods. Students may major in history for historical knowledge, teaching, research, or state service.

Major in History

A minimum of 30 and no more than 40 credits are required as follows:

1. At least 12 credits in history other than United States history. This requirement must include some ancient or medieval history. History 123 counts as medieval history. Integrated Liberal Studies 112 (3 credits) and 122 (4 credits) are accepted as equivalents of History 115 and 119.
2. Six credits in American history.
3. At least 15 credits in advanced history courses 300-699, taken in residence at The University of Wisconsin. Advanced courses taken under 1 and 2 above count toward these 15 credits.

Major in the History of Culture

A student may choose to major in the history of culture to emphasize the cultural aspects of historical development. He must meet the requirements outlined above under 1 and 2 and must offer 12 credits in advanced courses in history, chosen to cover a logical segment of European or American cultural history. In addition, in consultation with his adviser, he must choose at least 9 credits in advanced courses in related departments in humanities or social studies (for example, Latin-American history and Spanish literature and art; Greek history and ancient philosophy and science; American history and law and political theory). When the student's interest lies in the cultural history of a period or country outside the English or United States fields, he must take an attainment examination or its equivalent in course work in the appropriate foreign language.

Major in Ibero-American Studies. (Page 208.)

Joint Major in History and History of Science

The joint major demands 18 credits in introductory courses: 6 credits in History 111-112, 115, 119, 120, or 123-124; 6 credits in History 201-202; and 6 credits in History of Science 201-202. In addition, 18 credits are required in advanced courses, of which at least 6 must be either in history or in history of science.

L&S General Honors Program

To earn the B.A. or B.S. with honors, majors in history must complete the following: (a) the general course degree requirements of the college, (b) the requirements of the General Honors Program as described on page 49, and (c) the junior-senior honors curriculum in the department.

Junior-senior honors curriculum: Of the 30 to 40 credits required for the major, 6 must be in the special honors course 481 and 482, 3 credits each semester, for juniors; this course will have two sections, American and European. A senior honors thesis, 681 and 682, is required, 3 credits each semester. The topic of the thesis should be selected after consultation with the adviser in the spring of the junior year.

Honors and High Honors in History

Students majoring in history, who have a grade-point average of 3.0 (4.0 basis) or better and 24 credits in history, may at the end of their junior year enroll for honors in history. They are required to register in small tutorial sections, 581-582 (3 credits each), which meet in weekly two-hour sessions, one in European and one in American history.

For honors in history, the student must have a 3.5 average in his major, including the tutorial course, at the end of his senior year. For high honors, he is required to register for the senior honors thesis course, 681-682 (3 credits each), and produce a thesis under the supervision of a member of the faculty. Arrangements for the senior thesis must be made during the second semester of the junior year. In addition, the recipient of high honors must have an overall grade-point average of 3.5.

HISTORY OF SCIENCE

Professor Siegfried (Chairman); Professors Hiebert, Ihde, Ingraham, Mani, Sonnedecker; Associate Professors Stahlman, Stauffer, Stieb; Assistant Professor Hilts.

Courses in the history of science are devoted to the knowledge of the development of scientific ideas, men, methods, and their cultural relationships. A knowledge of at least one science is required, and a previous course in history is desirable. No course in this department is open to freshmen.

Major Thirty-two credits of historical work and one year of advanced work in a department within the Division of Biological Sciences or Physical Sciences.

For the historical work, at least 22 credits must be offered from the history of science courses listed under Group A and at least 6 credits from the history courses listed under Group B. The remaining credits may be selected from any of the courses listed under Groups A, B, or C, or similar courses which may be added in the future.

Any major in the history of science must have his program approved
