

THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN
Department of History

Semester I Year 1978-79

COURSE NO.	COURSE TITLE	INSTRUCTOR
572	Studies in 16th Century Religious Ecstasy	Screech

COURSE DESCRIPTION

A seminar format course which will study the works of Erasmus, Rabelais, and Montaigne. All French authors will be studied in English translation. Screech is a professor of French Literature from England visiting the Madison Campus under the auspices of the Institute for the Humanities. Screech studies French Literature from a Historical perspective and is a renowned expert on Rabelais. This course presents an exciting opportunity for undergraduates to study 16th century literature with a visiting expert.

Please note this course requires consent of instructor. Since Mr. Screech will be arriving in Madison the week of registration you may obtain Consent of Instructor authorizations from the History Undergraduate Advisor Linda Newman in 4118 Humanities.

LECTURES

WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS and EXAMINATIONS

GRADING SYSTEM

REQUIRED READINGS

Erasmus In Praise of Folly.

xeroxed materials Screech is bringing from England

ON RESERVE

Rabelais Gargantua and Pantagruel.

Montaigne, Essays.