

UW–MADISON HISTORY CLUB PRESENTS

..... ♦

Indigenous Histories of the Midwest

..... ♦

Professors Stephen Kantrowitz, Sasha Suarez, and Matt Villeneuve speak to their areas of expertise within Indigenous history and connect their work to ongoing legacies. All three professors teach courses at UW-Madison relating to Indigenous history, but their research areas vary widely — from Native history in the Civil War and Reconstruction period, to gender and place-making in urban settings, to the federal boarding system. The talk will expand to more broadly understand the impact of these histories on our lived present.

Featuring:

Prof. Stephen Kantrowitz

Prof. Sasha Suarez

Prof. Matt Villeneuve

Tuesday
April 19, 2022
5:00 p.m. CT
via Zoom

To register, scan here:
or visit bit.ly/38iSYDh

JOIN US
April 19, 2022
